Through the Eyes Of the Horse

Connecting with the Herd

ReConnect with Yourself

- We do not judge you, or care what you own or who you are
- What colour, shape, size, degree you carry
- We give unconditional love
- We carry no grudges and give back forgiveness
- We are a shoulder to cry on, give hugs when you least expect it
- We touch and sigh with you on your journey
- We give you a push when you are ready to give up
- We wear no masks and are who we are as individuals all the time
- We do not hide our feelings
- We accept you on whatever level you enter our lives
- We see your heart and soul through our eyes
- We can give back to you what you have lost
- We see your beauty when you don't and enjoy your smile to us
- We will walk beside you, behind you and in front if the situation calls for that
- We are there for you when you need a friend in silence
- We help you find the unique and real you
- We live in the moment, not the past or future but the moment of need

Come experience a life changing moment with the Herd!
